Tickets Now on Sale for United Way's 8th Annual Festival of Trees

Tri-Cities' Favorite Holiday Gala Returns November 22 at Three Rivers Convention Center

Kennewick, WA — The holiday season kicks off in style as United Way of Benton & Franklin Counties announces that tickets are on sale for its beloved Festival of Trees, set for Saturday, November 22, 2025, at the Three Rivers Convention Center in Kennewick.

Doors will open at 5:30 p.m., inviting guests to a festive evening of dining, live entertainment, auction excitement—and, of course, the chance to take home one of the beautifully decorated, one-of-a-kind holiday trees, each sponsored and designed by generous local businesses and community members.

Tickets are available now at <https://FOT2025.givesmart.com>

Individual tickets, corporate tables, and sponsorship opportunities are available—early reservations are highly recommended, as the event sells out quickly each year.

More than just a celebration, the Festival of Trees raises vital funds to support United Way's work in early childhood education, student success, and basic needs for families across Benton and Franklin Counties.

"This event brings our community together in the spirit of generosity and joy, it's a party with a purpose" said Jade Elliott, Events & Communications Director at United Way of Benton & Franklin Counties. "Each ticket, each tree, and each donation helps us make a measurable impact in the lives of local children and families."

Event Highlights:

- Elegant holiday dinner & wine pairings
- Live & silent auctions, including custom-designed trees
- Musical performances and holiday entertainment
- Stories of community impact
- Festive photo opportunities and décor

All proceeds stay local, helping United Way improve the well-being and future of thousands of children and families in the region. A Night of Giving with Local Impact.

Don't miss this magical start to the holiday season.
